Soccer Profile

Age: 18    Juventus SC, US Soccer Dev. Academy \(DeAnza\)

With 45 soccer players from all over the world (all are Portuguese descendants), Brandon was awarded Top Player at the end of the SLBenfica Elite Training&Tryout session in Lisboa, Portugal Jul, 2013.

My name is Brandon Monteiro Magpayo, and I am a soccer player. As of July 2014, I was weighed at 155 pounds and measured 5 feet 11 inches. Currently, I play for De Anza Force U17/U18 Academy as a Full Time Player all year around. During my Freshman and Sophomore year, I played on the Carlmont High School Varsity soccer team for the Winter High School Season, leading my school to back-back PAL League Titles in my 2 years there. On Juventus Forza, I was a key part in the midfield as our team once ranked 3rd in the nation on Gotsoccer.com. We competed in numerous tournaments throughout the year, including Surf Cup San Diego, NHB Cup, and the 2012 & 2013 Dallas Cup.

In July 2013, I was invited to attend a trial for SL Benfica professional academy in Lisbon, Portugal. As a Portuguese descendent, I took this opportunity as a chance to play for the number 1 academy in all of Portugal. I was very successful in my trial for Benfica and was called back to return during the Winter of 2013. This experience motivated me to train even harder, as I hope to return in the near future.

At the moment, I plan to take 4 out of 5 possible AP classes in my junior year, hoping to get accepted to a UC College or maybe a better college outside California. Personally, I would like to stay in California for college, but I wouldn't mind leaving the state to play for a division 1 college team. I am mostly open to highly academic or above average schools, and would prefer not to attend a lower academic college. I also hope to get a scholarship when applying for my future college, due to my father being retired and not getting the best of pay checks. In college, I hope to study economics or marketing, but I am still undecided in what official major I want to pursue in. I plan to improve my 4.2 GPA, as well as continue playing soccer 4 days a week in order to play division 1 level soccer in college.

As an athlete, my goals are to use my decision making skills to help run my team's attack. I like to be a smart, offensive-minded player on the pitch, trying to create opportunities for not just myself, but for my teammates. It would definitely be a dream come true if I were to play D1 soccer in college with an athletic scholarship.
